KORAN BOLDEN

CHAMPION OF CHANGE

Koran Bolden is a national award-winning speaker, author, and entrepreneur who is inspiring youth and young adults to live a life beyond the ordinary. He is the CEO of Bold Moves Agency and the founder of Bold Futures Foundation with offices in Saint Louis and Atlanta. The foundation gives back to the community by investing in projects and campaigns that help minimize mental health stigmas and close the educational gap in underserved communities, post the COVID-19 pandemic..

Bolden's early years were spent growing up in a single-parent home in Saint Louis, Missouri. Despite experiencing the loss of his beloved older brother to gun violence, Koran was determined to succeed despite the cards that were dealt to him.

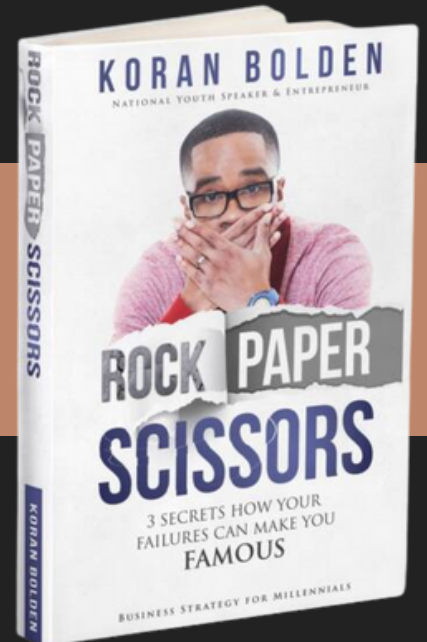

With the support of community leaders, mentors, and advisors, Koran has been awarded the Verizon Wireless Everyday Hero Award, the Mercedes Benz Rising Star Award, and the Cadillac City Shapers Salute for his leadership and philanthropic contributions that have impacted over 500,000 youth across the country through 950 motivational presentations on stage.

Leading corporations including Gap Inc., Banana Republic, Verizon Wireless, Walgreens, McDonald's, and Forbes have featured him on their respective platforms. In addition, St. Louis County, MO declared March 21st Koran Bolden Day for his work work and truly being a his work and champion for change.

The book Rock, Paper, Scissors, written by Bolden gives Millennials insight on how to build an award winning platform and create strong business partnerships with Fortune 500 companies. The Rock, Paper, Scissors Tour was launched soon after the book release. This tour was created to help youth make healthy life choices.
